BOYCHOIR BEGINS SEVEN-WEEK CONCERT TOUR THROUGH MIDWEST AND CANADA

Fall tour of the Columbus Boychoir will start October 26th with a concert in Cresson, Pa., and end seven weeks later with an appearance in Jacksonville, Ill., after encircling the Middle West and Western Canada. The itinerary, with several dates still to be booked, is given below.

The choir of 26 boys directed by Donald T. Bryant will include the following:

1st Sopranos

Michael de Temple, Columbus, O.
Tommy Dick, Pottstown, Pa.
Lester Erich, Easton, Pa.
Tommy Friedman, Yardley, Pa.
John Motsinger, Roaring Gap, N.C.
George Partlow, Saginaw, Mich.
Charles Scasserra, Kingston, N.J.
Allan Tucker, Covington, Va.
Alvin Yates, Maywood, N.J.

2nd Sopranos

Royce Anderson, Princeton, N.J.
Stephen Bryant, Princeton, N.J.
James de Loach, Greenwood, Miss.
James Helmeczi, North Brunswick, N.J.
Peter Kirwin, Columbus, O.
Michael O'Flaherty, Reading, Pa.
Brooke Pennypacker, Clark, N.J.

1st Altos

Donald Eppinger, Springfield, N.J.
Jerry Felton, Colonia, N.J.
Chris Thornley, Yardley, Pa.
Demi Wilkinson, St. Petersburg, Fla.

Accompanying "America's Singing Boys" will be two teachers, Arthur O'Hanlon and Frederick Royal, the latter also serving as road secretary; the bus operator, Harold Jones; and four soloists for the adult roles in "Amahl and the Night Visitors," operatic highlight of the program: Mary Evelyn Bruce (Amahl's mother) and Richard Bulaski, Wendell Gray and Daniel Hannafin (three kings). The company of 34 will travel in the school's touring coach, reconditioned last year after a decade and 200,000 miles of service. Its custom interior features a study desk at every seat, a small piano and a kitchenette. Classes are conducted on a regular schedule and when the touring students return to their classrooms in the school at Princeton they will be abreast of the classmates they left behind.

Concert stops on the fall tour follow:
October 26--Cresson, Pennsylvania
27--Elyria, Ohio
28--Bryan, Ohio
29--Owosso, Michigan
