

RECEPTIVE AUDIENCE HEARS YOUNG ARTISTS

The audience of music lovers who braved the extreme cold to attend the Lawson-Price recital last evening, was amply rewarded with a display of musicianship seldom heard here, in this type of concert. All are grateful to the Music Festival Association who sponsored the recital and brought native born Ailsa Lawson talented pianist from Winnipeg to appear with Bill Price, vocalist, who is home on holiday from the Columbus Boychoir in Princeton, New Jersey.

Miss Lawson introduced her part of the program with Arne's suite which was not included on the printed leaflet. When she went back stage she exclaimed, "What a wonderfully responsive audience; a performer would never be received with such enthusiasm in Winnipeg, after the first number. From then (Cont'd P 6, #1)
